

Covering the Gap

Some students spend their college years without considering key questions relevant to making effective career and life decisions in the light of new trends in society and culture.

To cover that gap and to offer students an opportunity to interact in small groups with successful professionals of integrity, Elmbrook has organized a series of speakers, most of whom are alumni or faculty at Harvard and MIT. The goal is to introduce students to the new perspectives opened up by their work and career experiences.

Elmbrook is an educational center for young men nearby Harvard University in Cambridge, MA. The center serves as a resource for students' intellectual, cultural, and spiritual development. The spiritual activities offered through Elmbrook are entrusted to Opus Dei, a personal prelature of the Catholic Church.
